

"Why not use Ghandi's way? He didn't have guns and he beat the British Empire."

- MICHAEL MOORE

Sign up now to get cheeky-with-it.

Log In

Sign Up!

home

eats

drama

features

sounds

scene

speak

meet

pics

press

this week's feature

Spring Showers

Put A Fashionable Spring in Your Step

Cheeky Chicago Author - Kim Peiffer

04/08/2009

We are all joyous that winter is (we think) coming to a close. I can't wait to wear frilly summer dresses and wedge heels, but unfortunately that time is not quite yet upon us. The next few months mean a plethora of extreme weather changes and some serious thunderstorms are certainly in the forecast. (Hey, I'm not a meteorologist, but c'mon, that's just reality.) While we patiently await days at the beach and ice cream cones, we can rest at ease with some stylish spring duds. Raindrops may be in the forecast, but so is the opportunity to wear adorable spring coats and boots. I picked out a few of my favorites to get you going.

Every spring, I bring out my fave summer shoes from the depths of my closet, and every year, I wear them to the bars and get stuck in a monsoon. Because I am extremely stubborn (a trait strictly inherited from my mom....thanks mom), I refuse to wait to wear them until summer. Which is why I think Shuella is genius - umbrellas for your shoes, what could be a better idea than that! Slip on the footwear accessory over your Manolo's on a rainy night out, and arrive at your destination with perfectly protected heels. The product comes in regular sizes like your shoes and can be worn over any size heel. Pick yourself up a pair in hot pink, apple green, buttercup yellow or basic black.

